LEAVE A LEGACY IN YOUR WILL AND HELP US INSPIRE FUTURE GENERATIONS WITH THE STORY OF de HAVILLAND

Leaving a legacy to the de Havilland Aircraft Museum will help us preserve some of Britain's most iconic aircraft. These include the Mosquito, the Tiger Moth and the Comet - the world's first jet airliner.

For over half a century, the Hatfield based de Havilland Company was one of the largest employers in Hertfordshire.

It remains a great source of pride for people in the area.

The museum's mission is to preserve and communicate the de Havilland heritage to ensure that current and future generations of all ages will understand de Havilland's contribution to innovative British aviation technology. Your legacy will have a lasting impact by helping us achieve this goal.

Our museum is run by unpaid volunteers and funded by public donations

We will spend your gift wisely to help expand our site, restore more aircraft and inspire people of all ages.

"The opportunity for the children to learn by exploring as well as looking and listening was invaluable. They held materials, shells and bullets, sat in cockpits...The children were fascinated and felt steeped in history."

HOW TO MAKE YOUR WILL

Value your estate

It's important to do this before you make your Will. Your assets may include your home, money in the bank, investments and belongings. Make a list and add up what it is all worth. Deduct any debts or liabilities.

Decide who will benefit

We understand that most people will want to provide for their loved ones first. But many people find that even after they have done this, they can leave something to a charity such as the de Havilland Aircraft Museum.

Seek tax advice

Once you have valued your assets, you may want to ask your solicitor for tax-planning advice. If your estate exceeds the threshold for paying Inheritance Tax, including a charity in your Will could help to reduce your estate's tax liability. Gifts to charity are exempt from Inheritance Tax.

Decide how to help

There are different ways you can leave gifts in your Will. You can leave a percentage of your estate after taxes, debts and expenses are paid. This is known as a 'residuary gift' and can be shared among family, friends and charities. Other people leave a 'pecuniary gift' which is a fixed sum of money. As inflation will reduce its value, you could ask your solicitor about leaving an index-linked gift.

Choose your executors

Your executor is the person responsible for carrying out the instructions in your Will. You may want to ask a relative or friend to do this but solicitors can also act as executors, for a fee. Most people appoint two executors.

Find a solicitor

We recommend you seek professional advice when writing your Will. If you do not already have a solicitor, ask your family or friends to recommend one or contact the Law Society.

YOUR QUESTIONS ANSWERED

I would like to leave a legacy. What's the next step?

Please get in touch with your solicitor or contact the Law Society to find one.

The Law Society's Hall
113 Chancery Lane
London WC2A 1PL
Telephone: 020 7242 1222
Email: contactcentre@sra.org.uk

How do I make changes to my Will?

In most cases you can simply ask your solicitor to make an addition, called a 'codicil', to your existing Will. If you have major changes, you may need to make a new Will. Ask your solicitor for advice.

How do I leave an artefact to the museum?

Please drop into the museum, telephone or email us for more information.

Do I need to tell you I have left you a legacy?

No, you don't have to tell us. If you would like us to know, please get in touch.

Can I leave you a small amount of money?

Yes. We value every gift, large and small. Every penny will make a difference to our work.

I'd like to leave the museum a gift in my Will. What wording should I use?

Here is some suggested wording if you wish to leave a percentage of your estate (a residuary gift):

I give the residue (or x%) of my estate to the de Havilland Aircraft Museum (registered charity number 286794) of Salisbury Hall, London Colney, Hertfordshire, AL2 1BU.

I further direct that the receipt of the Finance Director or duly authorised officer of the de Havilland Aircraft Museum shall be a full and sufficient discharge for the legacy.

Here is some suggested wording if you wish to leave a fixed sum of money (a pecuniary gift):

I give the sum of £x to the de Havilland Aircraft Museum (registered charity number 286794) of Salisbury Hall, London Colney, Hertfordshire, AL2 1BU. I further direct that the receipt of the Finance Director or duly authorised officer of the de Havilland Aircraft Museum shall be a full and sufficient discharge for the legacy.

SOME LEGAL TERMS EXPLAINED

Beneficiary: a person or charity who benefits from your Will.

Codicil: a legal document you can use to change your existing Will.

Estate: the sum of your belongings, property and savings after debts and liabilities are deducted.

Executors: the people you choose to carry out the instructions in your Will.

Pecuniary legacy: a fixed sum of money you leave to a beneficiary in your Will.

Probate: the legal document which confirms a Will is valid and authorises the executors to act.

Residuary legacy: the gift of a percentage (or the residue) of your estate after all other debts and gifts are paid.
